Maximum Marks	2 Marks

Problem – Solution Fit Template:

1. Customer Segment (CS)

- University students and beginner investors.
- Individuals looking to learn about the stock market without financial risk.

2. Jobs-to-be-done / Problems (J&P)

- Need a safe, realistic environment to practice buying and selling stocks.
- Need to understand market dynamics and track a simulated portfolio using live market data.

3. Triggers (TR)

- Hearing peers or friends talk about stock market profits.
- Reading financial news or watching finance influencers and wanting to participate.

4. Emotions: Before / After (EM)

- Before: Anxious, intimidated by complex charts, scared of losing real money.
- After: Confident, financially literate, empowered to make real investments later.

5. Available Solutions (AS)

- Traditional brokerages (require real money deposits and are intimidating).
- Basic stock market mobile games (often lack real-time data or professional UI).
- Reading books / watching YouTube (provides theory, but no hands-on practice).

6. Customer Constraints (CC)

- Limited disposable income or capital to risk on real trades.
- Lack of deep financial literacy.
- Fear of making costly mistakes in the real market.

7. Behaviour (BE)

- Downloading real trading apps but abandoning them at the "deposit funds" screen.
- Seeking advice on online forums (like Reddit) or asking friends for stock picks.

8. Channels of Behaviour (CH)

- Online: YouTube finance channels, Reddit (e.g., r/investing), Discord servers, University group chats.
- Offline: Campus finance clubs, casual discussions with friends.

9. Problem Root Cause (RC)

- Financial markets inherently involve real monetary risk.
- Professional trading tools are built for experienced experts, lacking onboarding features for complete beginners.

10. Your Solution (SL)

- A MERN-stack simulated stock trading platform (ShopEZ) that provides users with a virtual wallet.
- Features real-time API market data and risk-free portfolio tracking to bridge the gap between theory and actual trading.
